The third-best tennis player in the world has secured a buyer for his Jade Residences at Brickell Bay condo, which was listed at nearly $3 million.

Andy Murray, a two-time Grand Slam winner and Olympic champion, owns the four-bedroom and four-and-a-half bathroom unit on the 45th floor of Jade, at 1331 Brickell Bay Drive. Property records show AM 007 LLC, which is controlled by Murray, paid $1.575 million for in 2008.

Variety has reported that his condo, unit 4501, is under contract. The pending sale, according to Redfin, shows Jon Jacobs of City Realty Group International as the listing agent. The 3,415-square-foot unit has been on the market since November at $2.99 million.

Murray's Miami home features wraparound views of the bay and of the skyline, as well as three terraces with 868 feet of outdoor space. It includes a private elevator lobby, bedroom suites, marble flooring, hardwood floor boards, and floor-to-ceiling windows.

The 48-story tower was designed by Bernard Zyscovich and completed in 2004. Amenities include a sky lounge, fitness center and spa, and a pool deck with two infinity-edged pools. It was developed by Fortune International Group, which has developed a handful of Jade condo buildings.
